

Identify the following role within your group structure. A single person can take multiple roles but be aware all members of the group must add to the success of the project.

Group Leader

Key contact for me to the group, responsible for organization and division of labor.

Head Programmer

Responsible for code planning and integration.

System Lead

Responsible for developing and maintaining the projects environment also responsible for delivery vehicle.

User Interface Lead

Responsible for overall user experience, GUI layout and GUI development

Documentation Lead

Responsible for construction and delivery of non-program elements for the project. Also responsible for cataloging and archived documentation through the class for the project.